Sox win Provincial 'A' gold

THEY'RE NUMBER ONE! The gleeful Elk Point Sox came from a 9-0 deficit to defeat Standard 13-12 and win the Provincial Midget A Baseball gold medals. More photos on Page 3.

There was joy in Mudville - known on drier occasions as Bassett Field - late Sunday afternoon, as the Elk Point White Sox edged out Standard 13 - 12 to win the Midget 'A' Boys Baseball Provincials.

Fans huddled under a forest of multicolored umbrellas and a massive orange tarp cheered on their teams, with local fans surging to their feet before the bat hit the ground as the last Standard batter struck out. The Sox were down 9 - 1 after the first inning, but came back to pound in seven runs in the second. Encouraged, they pressed onward, first to tie the score and then to take a three-run lead, which dwindled to two before the visiting team took up their bats for the final time. Standard had two men on base in the final moment of the game as their batter went for the full count before risking a third swing, which contacted only with wet fresh air.

This was the second contest of the weekend for the two evenly matched teams, who met Friday night immediately following the opening ceremonies, Elk Point taking the 5-2 victory. The Sox lost to Westlock by an 8-4 margin before rallying to defeat Lac La Biche 9-7 while Standard trounced Lac La Biche and edged Westlock 8-7. In semi-final play, Standard handed Rocky Mountain House their first and only loss of the weekend, while the Sox were victorious over the 2-and-1 Crowsnest crew. Teams from Athabasca and Fort Saskatchewan lost out in the tournament's round robins.

Friday evening's opening ceremonies saw all eight teams introduced by MC Calvin Leckie as they paraded out onto Bassett Field to form a line up around the diamond. Elizabeth Orr led the crowd in singing O Canada before Town

Dress western - rodeo's coming

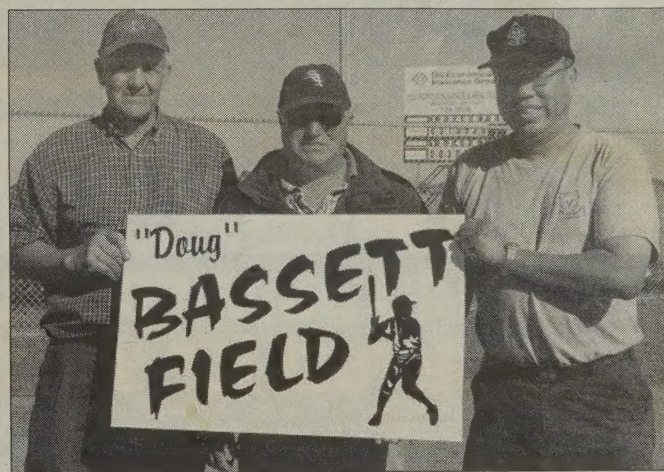

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce is urging the local business community to put their best cowboy-boot-shod foot forward this week, by dressing western and decorating their businesses with a western theme in support of the Elk Point Agricultural Society, who are bringing the Senior Pro Rodeo to the Elk Point Fairgrounds this Saturday and Sunday.

Rodeo performances go Saturday evening at 7 p.m. and Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m., with the overflow of competitors accommodated with slack performances at noon Saturday and 8 a.m. Sunday.

The weekend also features a beef-on-a-bun supper Saturday at 6 p.m. and a beer garden.

The rodeo is all locally sponsored and admission to both performances is free. Make sure to come out and support the Ag Society as they bring rodeo back to Elk Point after a long absence.

OUTSTANDING IN HIS FIELD - "Mr. Sports" Doug Bassett (centre) was presented with a "Bassett Field" sign by Minor Ball president Laverne Wilson and Town Councillor Parrish Tung.

Fire, library agreements approved by Council

Elk Point Town Council wrapped up some unfinished business last Monday night when they approved a revised Mutual Aid Fire Agreement with the County of St. Paul. They had previously met with the County regarding the agreement, which also met with County approval. The County indicated they would make the agreement retroactive to January 1, 2003.

The Joint Use Fire Protection Agreement was also approved after some amendments regarding records to be forwarded to the Town. A committee consisting of two Town and two County representatives and the administration of both jurisdictions will meet quarterly.

Council accepted this year's Library Service Agreement with the County.

A court of revision has been set for September 8 at 5 p.m., with Town Manager Myron Goyan appointed as clerk of the court.

The Town agreed to write off 2003 taxes on the CN property transferred to Muncicorr and to exempt the property from future taxation. Title changes on the property had not been recorded at the time tax notices were sent out.

An application by a potential new member for the FCSS Board was forwarded to the Board for their approval.

Council agreed to approach the Elk Point Elks Lodge regarding taking back ownership of the building currently housing the FCSS office, as they feel operation of the building may be creating a financial hardship for the lodge.

Council responded to a request from the Alberta Council on Aging by proclaiming Sunday, September 7 as Grandparents Day in Elk Point.

Approval was given to a request from the Northeast Alberta HUB, to allow movie photographers and scouts to come out and look at the area as a possible location for future productions.

HUB also is looking for people interested in economic development officer training. Interest has been shown by both the County of St. Paul and the Town of Elk Point. Ten to 15 participants are needed to run the program, and Councillor Dennis Jasinsky volunteered to get the program going if enough participants can be found.

We did it! We did it! We won!

The Sox win! The Sox win! We're not talking just a game, the Sox are the 2003 Midget A Provincial Champions, that's right, the Provincial Champions, and no one is ever going to take that away from these boys. This sounds like some kind of fairy tale, and maybe it is, or maybe the time had come for a group of boys who worked hard never gave up and deserved to win it. Our goal right from the start of the year was to make it to Sunday, to play in the semi finals, everything else was a bonus. What we got was Gold!

Starting Friday night right after the opening ceremonies the Sox shocked the first place-seeded team Standard in a 5 to 2 win. Myles "Mylo" Quinney on the mound getting the win, pickup player Kyle Langstaff from Sherwood Park getting the save.

But Saturday morning the tables were reversed, the Sox were on the receiving end, with a 4 run lead they lost it to Westlock 8 to 4, making it a must-win situation over Lac La Biche, Saturday afternoon.

Review Sports

Down in the Lac La Biche game by four runs in the first, the Sox battled back, winning 9 to 7. Against Crowsnest in the semi final the same story. Down 5 to 2 in the 2nd. Battled back winning 11 to 8. The final game down 9 to 0 in the first, yes, that's right, 9 to 0 in the first, most teams would just throw in the towel at this point, not these guys, the Sox winning 13 to 12.

So many great plays in the field and so many timely hits we just can't mention them all here, but the boys know what they did, and the parents and fans know it too, and we will talk about it for weeks. But, the big story all week-end was on the bats. The Sox lineup right from 1 to 9 were making contact The Sox were able to overcome all kinds of deficiency because of the bats, not to mention touching the lucky Elephant on the lucky dugout door. The lucky dugout the one with the birdsnest inside. You see, they weren't in the lucky dugout against Westlock, the rest of the weekend they were. Baseball is 90% mental, and 10% physical.

This is always one of the saddest times of the year for me; time to say good-bye to the veterans who will be leaving the team. These two guys are great kids, from good families, and I will miss them dearly. Mark "Marksman" Letestu and Kevin "Iceman" Moneta, they came to the team four years ago as bantams, in provincial round robins down in Wainwright they sat on the bench as subs, and sat the next day too, and the next weekend. Each of them played a total of one maybe two innings that year in the round robins. But they came back the next year, ready to play, waiting for their day. Their day has come, ladies and gentlemen.

Kevin "Iceman" Moneta with a three run home run homer in the bottom of the sixth against Crowsnest: not only did this give the Sox the insurance runs they needed, it took the wind right out of the Crowsnest sail. They were finished after that.

The "Marksman" Mark Letestu -- what a story. Got off to a real shaky start when he started to pitch against SILVER MEDALISTS - The Standard Midgets proved formidable opponents for the Sox in the final, leading them by nine runs in the first inning.

Lac La Biche, allowed four runs in the first, was pulled and returned in the top of the seventh, after some protest of course, and shut them down, the Sox winning 9 to 7 to advance to the semifinals against Crowsnest. He came in to pitch in the fourth against Crowsnest, the Sox were down 7 to 3 at this point, shut them down, you know the rest of the story, "Iceman" pounding the big one.

Then in the final, the Sox down nine runs after only the first inning, after going through three pitchers, the "Marksman" like a gunslinger riding in from the west, shut them down too, the Sox bats went to work and the rest is history. "Marksman" winning the final game MVP from Baseball Alberta.

And now it's time for the thank yous. Let's start with Ron Fraess and the town crew who did such a wonderful job mowing and trimming the grass around the grounds, the facility looked excellent, then on Saturday and Sunday, Ron came back by himself, every morning at 7 a.m. cleaning bathrooms and picking garbage etc. The local business people who help finance the tournament with their sponsorship, the 50/50 girls, the concession workers, Laverne Wilson the tournament chairman, Cal Leckie and Debbie Hansen in the score booth, Marshall Myshaniuk and the grounds crew, Jonny Neilsen and the fireman who soaked down the diamond every night, Isabelle Myshaniuk who did up the program, coaches Rick Bilak and Corey Barrett who worked with the team improving their skill level, the parents of the Sox team, the bat boys and anyone else who I may have missed - Thank You All.

And now for the K. A. Campbell's quote of the week "I like the job I have now, but if I had my life to live over again, I'd like to have ended up a sports writer." Last week's answer to: "Managing is never fun. If you pull off something big, it's expected. If you fail, you're a bum." Paul Richards. Got any scoops? Now you can Email it to sportshound007@hotmail.com

The rodeo's back in town - yippee!

It's been a long time since Elk Point has had a rodeo right here in town, and we salute the Elk Point and District Agricultural Society for giving us the opportunity to enjoy this popular summertime sport in our own community.

Rodeo has a long history in this area, with one of the first rodeos, held down by the site of the Elk Point Bridge, immortalized on the mural to remind us of that fact. More than a quarter of a century ago, the Ag Society held hugely successful rodeos in the A. G. Ross Arena, and we recall the excitement when the Agricultural Society was able to purchase land and set up an outdoor rodeo arena.

In recent years, when the Society took a break from being part of the rodeo circuit, it left a big hole in our summers. We're glad to see rodeos resume, and hope this weekend will be a huge success and will encourage the Ag Society to host more rodeos in the future. The bull-a-ramas were great, but they just don't take the place of a full scale outdoor rodeo.

Fan mail for the Trail

Dear Editor,

Last week I had the pleasure of riding my bicycle on the Iron Horse Trail with a friend. Every year we enjoy a short vacation together riding our bikes on a trail in Alberta or Saskatchewan. We are two middle-aged women who enjoy the outdoors and the physical activity of cycling. We were delighted to find the Iron Horse Trail on the internet and made our plans to stay in a local bed and breakfast and enjoy the local cuisine and culture. We wish to express our appreciation to the local residents of the area for their many volunteer hours and vision to create such a magnificent trail. Next year, we will continue our ride from Elk Point to Vilna.

How to build your child's self-esteem

By Marylu Walters
Alberta Teachers' Association

One in five adolescents between the ages of 12 and 14 suffers from low self-esteem, according to a recent report by the Canadian Institute of Child Health. The consequences of negative self-esteem - including underachievement, depression and anxiety - can profoundly affect a child's chances for success and happiness in life.

Countless studies have shown a significant relationship between a child's sense of self-worth and academic achievement. Others show that teens with low self-esteem are at risk of drug and alcohol abuse.

What can you do as a parent to ensure that your child grows up with a healthy sense of self-worth?

Building self-esteem in your child starts with unconditional love and acceptance. Even if you don't always approve of their behavior, children need to know that you love them with no strings attached. Spend time with them and hug them often.

Children also need a sense of belonging to make them feel comfortable, safe and secure. Encourage them to take pride in their family's heritage and help them build strong family and community relationships.

Focus on positive behavior and keep criticism to a minimum. Find ways to praise your child every day. Be sure to distinguish between mere flattery and meaningful praise - instead of lavishing your child with general praise, such as "You are so talented," compliment him or her on specific achievements, such as "I like the way you draw flowers," "That's a very interesting spaceship you built," or "You did a great job cleaning up your room."

Help your child set reasonable goals and follow through on projects. Praise him or her for trying, even if they are unsuccessful. Teach them to have the courage to fail and to learn from their mistakes.

Allow your child to shine and contribute by finding his or her strengths and areas of competency. Encourage your child to choose projects that are challenging so that he or she can take pride in completing them. Build in success by breaking projects down into smaller, manageable tasks. Praise your child as he or she completes each step.

Let your child express his or her emotions. Take their ideas and feelings seriously and don't be judgmental, even if you don't think they are justified.

Allow your child to make choices appropriate to his or her age so they will develop a sense of ownership and self-confidence. For example, let a very young child pick out a shirt to wear from a selection of two or three.

Encourage your child to try out various activities - such as individual or team sports, music, art or drama - so they can discover what they're good at. Don't pressure them. Keep competition out of it.

Finally, remember that your child is a unique person. Resist comparing him or her with your other children or with their friends or classmates. Accept, respect and love your child for who he or she is, not who you think they should be.

Playground installation help is needed this weekend

Something exciting is happening on July 25 and 26. Yes, that is right. There is going to be new playground equipment installed at Markstad Park on 52 Street and 52 Avenue.

The Town of Elk Point has purchased playground equipment from Play Works Inc., a company out of Edmonton, and they are bringing the playground equipment to Elk Point on July 25.

Volunteer help, which will be supervised by Play Works, is needed for Friday, July 25 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Volunteer help is also needed for Saturday, July 26 from 8:30 a.m. until the project is finished. If you are in town this weekend and if you are able to give some time to help install the playground equipment, give Myron a call at the Town Office at 724-3810 to let him know you are available to help with the project. He would love to hear from you. The equipment is called "Romperland" and it is a steel play structure with an in-ground design appropriate for children ages 5 to 12 years.

Speaking of playground equipment and playing, how did you all enjoy the baseball games this last weekend? You know, this community has many heroes. One such hero is Doug Bassett. He is the person who seems to know how to keep sports operating in our town. To have Provincials hosted in Elk Point is really a great honor. Doug is the person behind the scenes that brought Provincials to Elk Point. Thank you, Doug!

We have other heroes. I remember, many years ago now, but I remember Darlene Kozicky getting many parents together to bring playground equipment to the Elementary School. It took several years and many fundraising activities. Then the day came when they were able to install the equipment. Many parents showed up to help. That was many years ago and some of those parents who helped no longer live in our town.

Since that time, many children have played on that equipment over the years. Thank you, Darlene, for your vision and for following through to bring good playground equipment to the Elementary School. And... thank you everyone else who was involved in that project. Other sports in our town include all the people and parents who brought hockey, basketball, golf, soccer and tennis to our town. We are so fortunate in our community to have all of you. You have helped our community. You are all heroes. Thank you, everyone!

Our children need recreational activities, whether it is playing on playground equipment or playing with teams in organized sports. We are a very fortunate community to have people who get involved and see to it that recreational activities take place for our children. The Town of Elk Point has recognized all that everyone has done over the years and is doing today to bring recreational activities to our children. Your example and contribution has been great. Thank you everyone. Now it is time to upgrade the playground in Markstad Park. The Town of Elk Point is financially supporting this project. They need your volunteer help in setting up the equipment under the supervision of the Play Works people. So if you can and you are available to help on Friday, July 25 from 6 to 9 p.m. and on Saturday, July 26 from 8:30 a.m. until the project is finished, give Myron a call at the Town Office at 724-3810.

A storyteller, a field trip and books for sale: keeping it real at the Library!!!

By April Gusnowski and Sandy Bullock
Elk Point Public Library

The Summer Reading Program is presenting "Down By the Docks", a children's show performed by Daryl Robb of Talking Lobster Productions. He promises music, story-time, comedy, puppets and audience participation. His show is intended for children ages three through eight, but make no mistake, moms and dads will have tons of fun too. Yes, the rumors are true... FREEADMISSION!!! So come on down on July 25 at 1 p.m. to join in on all the fun happening at the library. And a very big thank you to Northern Lights for sponsoring our show!

The Summer Reading Program would also like to inform all storm chasers that we are planning a field trip. We have booked Fort George and Buckingham House Interpretive Centre for August 12 (for preschool session) and August 14 (for 6-11 session). The Forts offers crafts, games and loads of fun. Admission will be your Summer Reading Program fee for the day, to be paid before departure, and will roughly coincide with our program's regular hours. However, we are dependent on parent volunteers for transportation. If you are interested in driving on either day, call the library at 724-3737. Hope to see you there!

Books for sale

We, here at the library, have been doing some thorough cleaning and organizing. With all the new books we are continually receiving, we are running out of space... and fast! As a result we now have stacks of books for sale. We have all kinds of literature to choose from and right now our prices are incredibly low. You can purchase 10 for a dollar and then choose 10 for free, or more simply put, 20 books for a dollar. Books for sale are currently located in the foyer, but there are too many for such a small space. As such, we have some in the back as well. Ask the staff to show you where they are so you can browse for more.

Not interested in paperbacks or hardcovers? We have plenty of old magazines if anyone would like to give them a good home - heaps of National Geographic Magazines (dating as far back as 1956), Macleans, Newsweek, Biography, Crafting Traditions, Crafts, Country Living, Better Homes and Gardens and many more. If you are interested, or know anyone who is interested, just ask the staff to help you, or call 724-3737.

Reflections on Prom 2003 and all who made it happen

By Donna Slywka
F. G. Miller Parent Committee

The saying goes, "It's not over till the fat lady sings". Well, Prom 2003 is over, and although neither of these talented ladies is anywhere near being fat, the ceremonies started with Danielle Schnurer singing "O Canada" and ended with a song from Michelle Friesen. In between, we were entertained with speeches from parents and students and a slide show produced by Lawrence Pidluzny. Although a lot of Grade 12 parents had put a lot of work into planning Prom, we were all able to sit back, relax and enjoy the show. I'd like to say "thank you" again to Cheri Lindquist.

Although she also had a student participating in Prom this year, she still coordinated the ceremony. She is the one teacher who puts the most into the Prom every year, followed by Lawrence Pidluzny who works with the students organizing the slide show. Our hats are off to you, no one can say you don't go that "extra mile".

Although some of the Grade 12 students and their parents put a lot of time and effort into organizing Prom, they all had a vested interest. There were so many other people who volunteered their time and let us use their property for props, who just did so out of the goodness of their hearts and their sense of community spirit, and we would like to thank them. Doug Bassett and B&R for picking up and returning the rental items from Edmonton and for the use of their trailer for storage. Dwayne Odgaard and Co-op for the Prom "member's number", the use of all the silk plants and fountain, the donation of coffee cups, and the discount on the food items bought there to make the lunches. Elk Point has gained a great community minded person in your move here. Maryann Kozicky and Meadowview Greenhouses for the beautiful flower urns which she has been nurturing for use at her son's wedding this summer, which she trusted us enough to let us borrow them before the event. Wanda Cochrane and the Ukrainian Dance Club for taking on the responsibility of running the alcohol booth. Ron and Sharon Smith for the use of their wagon. Parrish Tung for the use of his pond pump. The County of St. Paul for the use of the "security vests". Lorraine Ference for the use of her "antiques" for decorating the arena. Shane Smith and SNAP for the use of the chain saw. Diane Balash and Danin Office Supplies for photocopies. The F. G. Miller Jr./Sr. High School for stamps, paper, photocopies and numerous cups of coffee. Donna Gulayec and Darlene Sereda for all the lists they had to print for us, Jim Hawkins for being available all the times we had to pick your brains on policy (I'm sure we raised your blood pressure a few times). The Grade 11 students and parents - you are a fantastic group and we wish you all the best with your plans next year. Cody Kurek for the use of the decorations from his wedding. Mr. Aarts, Mr. Shankowski and Travis Lindquist for their manpower in helping set up the risers in the gym. Don Conrad and Elk Point Elementary School for the use of their tables. The Elk Point Review and the St. Paul Journal for printing our articles. And although he is a Grade 12 parent, Darren Calliou for "stepping up to the plate" at the last minute - you're a lifesaver. I'm sure I've forgotten someone, but again, THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU!!!

The students had voted to have a DJ provide music at their dance, and Norm Noel from St. Paul was hired. He did an excellent job, seemed to have as much fun as we did, and stayed until 4:30 a.m. at no additional charge, and we'd have no qualms about recommending him for next year. The A. G. Ross Arena was a great place to have the dance and quite fun to decorate. We'd like to again thank the A. G. Ross Committee for allowing us to use the facility, and hope we proved that Prom can be held safely and responsibly so it can be held in your facility another year. Also thank you to Lyle Marianchuk and the Elk Point RCMP Detachment for their help in ensuring that we had a safe event.

Congratulations to the students - without your hard work and diligence, there would be nothing to celebrate. Congratulations to the teachers and parents - you have nurtured and guided these young adults to this branch in the path and provided them with the knowledge to choose their way. Thank you to the people and businesses of Elk Point. Without your support the Class of 2003 would not have had the "send off" that they had so wanted. Hopefully, by your example, some of them will have learned the value of "community spirit."

THANK YOU

ERENCE, Darwin

The family of the late Darwin Ference would like to express our most sincere thanks to all those who attended the Funeral Service for our beloved family member. Thank you to all those who have sent flowers, food and comforting words in cards. A special thanks for the tribute candles, that were lit during the service and remain in our homes, as a light of hope for Darwin. Thank you Father Roman Dobriansky for the lovely service he provided. Thank you Carolyn and the Staff at Yewchin's Funeral Home, for guiding us through the difficult time of arranging the funeral. Russel, Carson and Warren extend a special thanks to Carolyn Yewchin for the extra time spent with them to help them say good-bye to Dad, in their own unique way, and for the tribute bears they continue to hold and cherish. We would like to thank the staff at the St. Therese Psychiatric Unit for their care and compassion during Darwin's hospitalization. Thank you to those who generously donated to Alberta Mental Health, in Darwin's memory. To family members, friends and neighbors, thank you for the visits, comforting words and the hugs, when words just would not come. Your continuing support during these difficult times are greatly appreciated and will never be forgotten.

Sox win Provincial gold

Councillor Parrish Tung welcomed the out-of-town visitors and congratulated all the teams for reaching Provincials. He thanked the coaches for their guidance and support and the Elk Point volunteers for their efforts in hosting the Provincial tournament. One of these volunteers stood out: Doug Bassett, who Tung called "Mr. Sports - a living legend," and who Elk Point Minor Ball president Laverne Wilson recognized for his years as Elk Point's sports reporter and for his considerable work in minor ball and hockey. Tung and Wilson presented Bassett with a sign proclaiming the diamond as "Bassett Field". Bassett said the presentation came as "a total surprise" and thanked everyone for their help with the tournament. "We try to host the Provincials every year... they're good for our town."

Longtime minor ball supporter Phil Sheplaw made the ceremonial first pitch to Tung to officially open the tournament.
